DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's election of species A in Paper No. 7 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claims 5, 11, 14-21, and 28 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 7.

Please note that claim 17 does not read on the elected species A.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-4, 6-10, 12, 13, 22-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

It is not understood what the ascending force coefficients of the blades are and its functions. Please explain this.

In claim 22, it is not understood the blades can be rotated if their ends are connected together by the joint rings please explain.

Art Unit: 3644

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-4, 6-10, 12, 13, 22, and 23-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 4, "the ascending force coefficients of the blades" lacks antecedent basis.

In claim 1, last line, "the forward side and on the rear side" lacks antecedent basis.

In claim 6, line 6, "the ascending force coefficients of the blades" lacks antecedent basis.

In claim 6, last two line, "the forward side and on the rear side" lacks antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4, 6-10, 12, 13, 22, 25 and 27, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Meek (Canadian reference '581).

Art Unit: 3644

Meek discloses an aircraft rotor having at least two blades that rotate to form a conical surface. The blades 3, 3' are adjusted to be positive to provide propulsive force. The ascending force coefficients on the forward and rear side can be adjusted to have opposite signs (see pages 3-5). The ends of the blades belong to the same rotor are connected by elements 4 and 5. The ascending force coefficients can be adjusted as a function of the angle of rotation of the rotor and are arranged to be adjusted by changing the blade angle of the blades. The rotor has circular rotor rim to which the blades are arranged (see figures 1, 2, and 7). The aircraft has rotors arranged on top of each other. The aircraft functions as a wind generator and can be a dwelling for the pilot.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 23 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Meek in view of Langford and Marsi.

Meek discloses all claimed parts except for the use of fuel cells to power electric motors that rotate and control blade angles. However, Langford discloses that electric motors to rotate rotors and are powered by fuel cells are well known in the art. Marsi discloses that electric motors to change the blade angles are well known in the art.

Art Unit: 3644

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to have used fuels cells and electric motors to rotate the blades and change the pitch angle of the blades in Meek's system as taught by Langford and Marsi to create a more efficient and quieter system.

Claim 24 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Meek in view of Langford and Iturralde.

Meek discloses all claimed parts except for surfaces being made up of solar cells. However, Iturralde discloses that surfaces made up of solar cells are known in the art.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to have used solar cells on the surfaces Meek's system as taught by Iturralde to generate electricity.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
